Free Offshore news with digital magazine

Monday, August 28, 2006

A new on-line magazine -www.magverlag.com describing itself as one of the largest and fastest growing free digital magazines for the offshore world has launched its eighth free issue. With editorial content written by experts with detailed knowledge of the offshore financial industry, publishers say it is a must read for anyone in the offshore business.

"Every story in the magazine provides some element of utility, some lesson, example, insight, or bit of information our readers can gain from," said the Editor in Chief.

"We believe that our readers should have the freedom to choose financial products tailored to their individual needs and be able to adapt as these needs change."

The magazine looks at what the offshore financial market has to offer - the key players and its business sectors.

The offshore industry has shown rapid growth in many of these areas in recent years.

This edition focuses on International tie-ups and mergers in the offshore setor as well as how to set up your own Hedge Fund.

Asset protection and a close up of Qatar's Financial Centre are also covered.

The publication is free and is published by Strong Media Corp.
